

Side Note: This song was included in my first Hymn arrangement book, but there have always been a few measures that I play differently. So, this is an updated version of the original. I was on YouTube and typed in my name in the search window. I was surprised to find that a handful of people had recorded themselves playing my arrangement of this song. How cool is that? I never thought anyone would think enough of my music to record it and share it with others. You have my full permission to record yourself playing any of my songs and share them online with others. I'd be honored if you did this. I hope you enjoy the few minor changes I made to the arrangement in this book.

For the Beauty of the Earth
