Side Notes: This was a lost song that was sketched out from beginning to end in December of 2024. Each year I create a new sketch book of manuscript paper ideas and even though this was finished, I forgot to move it into a music workflow so that we could transcribe and record the song at a later date. I figure it is only fitting to title this song "Don't Forget Me" because it was over 15 months later that I found this tune at the end of an old file of manuscript pages that had been forgotten.
