

Side Notes: Everyone has heard of the magic lamp from Aladdin and the three wishes you get if you find it. I've sometimes wondered if all we had was a single wish, what we would wish for. I've been blessed in many ways and as I was writing this tune out, I thought about many of the things we care most about. Most of these things are simple. Not only that, but many of the things we might wish for, are things that we could accomplish with the right planning and willingness to get to work. If you have a wish you would like to see happen in your future, make the needed changes, get momentum, and make the wish happen.

The notes in this song are simple. Most good songs are that way. As you play this song and others, I hope you'll remember that when a big task or obstacle, or something you want to wish for happens, the solution can sometimes be made up of lots of simple steps, that in many cases can be started by a single person who is willing to get started and consistently do the simple things.
