Side Notes: Over the years, Pachelbel's Canon has always felt a bit like Christmas to me. I'm not sure exactly why, but one day I started playing around with the idea of having Jolly Old St. Nick do a mashup with Pachelbel and this was the result. If you listen carefully, you'll also hear a bit of Jingle Bells.

Have fun with this and don't hesitate to jazz this up and make it your own if you get a little bored with some of the single notes and chords. Music is intended to be enjoyed, especially by the person playing it!
